

ARMED TO THE TEETH WAS MILLS

The Man Arrested at Point Pleasant, Charged With the Dillon-Hancher Robbery.

THE OFFICERS SURPRISED HIM

While He was at Dinner in a Restaurant—Endeavored Fruitlessly to Resist Arrest.

Chief of Police Clemans went to Point Pleasant yesterday morning to take into custody the man who was arrested there Sunday on the charge of committing the robbery at the Dillon, Hancher & Company jewelry store, in this city, several weeks ago. He was expected to have returned to the city last evening, but the delay of trains on the Ohio River road, on account of a burned bridge, held him over until this morning.

From Captain Mehan, of the Ohio River railroad police, it is learned that the thief was captured while off his guard, else there would have been desperate resistance offered, as the fellow was armed with two revolvers. It seems that the fellow, whose name is Henry Mills, was known to be coming down the river on a boat, but the Point Pleasant police had learned that he was armed to the teeth, and were not over-anxious to tackle the stranger. However, he landed at the Point, and went to a restaurant for dinner.

The officers were shadowing their man, and came to the conclusion that they would rush at him while he was eating. This plan they put through with great success, Mills being taken entirely by surprise. As the officers grasped him by the arms and shoulders he made an effort to get out one of his guns, one being in each hip pocket, but without success, and he soon subsided, seeing that resistance was useless.

Mills went down the river in a John-boat, painted blue, and claims he bought the boat here for $4. An investigation was begun yesterday, and Officer Bickerton, of the Island, reported that a John-boat painted stone color was stolen about the time of the Dillon-Hancher robbery. It is likely this is the boat used by Mills.

THE BURNING OF A BRIDGE ON THE O. R. R.

Caused a Suspension of Traffic for Several Hours on That Road Monday Morning.

NEW BRIDGE WAS IMPROVISED

In a Few Hours—Vanderbilts May Get the Wabash—New Wheeling-Pittsburgh Line.

The burning of a trestle-work bridge near Chestnut Hill, in Marshall county, between Powhatan and Moundsville, on the line of the Ohio River railroad held up traffic on that line several hours yesterday. The bridge is supposed to have been fired by a falling spark from a locomotive early Monday morning. Between 4 and 5 o'clock the bridge was discovered to be on fire, and as soon as possible the news was put on the wire in order that trains might be held. Fortunately this was done in time to avert a disaster.

As soon as possible a construction train was rushed to the scene and in a few hours a new trestle-work bridge had been improvised, and traffic was resumed. The train due at Wheeling in the morning was delayed until 1 p. m. The early morning train was held up several hours, and the departure of the south-bound Ohio Valley Express was delayed.

That New Pittsburgh Line.

Referring to a recent exclusive Intelligence publication the Pittsburgh Post says: "The latest rumor from the Wheeling district is to the effect that the Pennsylvania company is contemplating the use of the Terminal bridge so as to divert traffic to the Cleveland & Pittsburgh river division with a connection for the Pan-Handle short line at Mingo Junction. If this is done, the Pittsburgh, Wheeling & Kentucky will lose much of its business and the stockholders who have been receiving large dividends may suffer. The Pennsylvania company owns the river division of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh, and could handle all the Wheeling business over this line via the Terminal bridge. From Mingo to Pittsburgh the traffic of the two river lines could be handled over the direct Pan-Handle line, which is about 26 miles shorter than the line via Wellsville and East Liverpool."

May Get the Wabash.

The concentration of so many railroads under Vanderbilt control is worrying railroad people. The latest is that the Vanderbilts may acquire control of the Wabash. Says the New York World: "It is reported that the sudden departure of William K. Vanderbilt on his yacht Valiant was the result of a summons to London to meet George Gould and A. J. Cassatt, who are in that city."

According to this report the Vanderbilts want to secure the Wabash system, which is at present owned by the Goulds; while Mr. Cassatt wants the advice of Mr. Vanderbilt concerning the closing of several large contracts for the exportation by the Pennsylvania, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Norfolk & Western of large quantities of bituminous coal. It is expected that the bituminous coal exports to Europe will become very large in the next year or two because of the gradual falling of the English mmes. It is said that Mr. Cassatt is about to close contracts involving the shipping of several million dollars' worth of coal to Europe.

Smothering Competition.

The announced plans of President Hill of the Great Northern will probably precipitate one of the hottest and longest freight-rate wars ever known in the history of railroading. He is carefully making his plans, and says that as soon as his two gigantic steamships are completed and in the trans-Pacific service, he will establish a through freight rate of not more than $8 a ton from Buffalo and other points on the great lakes to Yokohama, Nagasaki, Hong-Kong, Shanghai, and other places on the coasts of Japan and China, and that this rate may be cut to $7, half in either case to go to the railroad end of the business, and the other half to the steamship lines.

No statement has been made in years that is considered so seriously by the officials of other railroads as this, for it carried into effect it will probably mean that many of them will be forced to stop the handling of through freight. It is even said that such low charges would give the Great Northern a practical monopoly of all freight bound from the east to trans-Pacific ports, unless the Canadian Pacific and Northern Pacific, which cover practically the same territory, and both of which have oriental steamship lines, should meet the rate. In any event, it is not seen how the railroads to the south could compete, as they have much longer hauls, and none of them, with the exception of the Santa Fe (which, however, does not reach the iron districts of the great lakes and contiguous territory), has a through route of its own to the localities that furnish most of the commodities that are used by the Mongolians.

Found With Her Throat Cut.

BRANDENBURG, Ky., August 6.—Mrs. Anna Brunting, aged seventeen, who rode unattended to church last night, was found several hours later on the road, beaten almost to a pulp. Her throat had been cut. The first intimation of the crime was when her horse pawed at the front door of her father's house. Jesse Durham, a relative, was arrested on suspicion, and taken to Louisville for safe-keeping.

Strike on a Steamer.

HAVRE, August 6.—The strike among the stokers and bunkermen of the French line steamer La Bretagne, which was scheduled to sail for New York Saturday, and which has been delayed here by the trouble, is assuming great proportions. The sailors are now joining in the movement. Some disturbances have occurred, but nothing serious in that direction has happened.

Hoyt's Guardian Appointed.

CLAIREMONT, N. H., Aug. 6.—The appointment of Hon. James O. Lyford, of Concord, as guardian of Charles H. Hoyt, the playwright, was made by Judge Tenney in the Sullivan county probate court to-day. The appointment was made at the request of Mr. Hoyt, and was acquiesced in by Frank McKee, who is the business partner of

Mr. Hoyt. Mr. Lyford will assume management of all Mr. Hoyt's business affairs, and will endeavor to preserve as much as possible of Mr. Hoyt's personal estate, the monetary value of which is a matter of conjecture.

NOTHING INCRIMINATING

Found in the Trunk of Antonio Tanner, Now Under Arrest.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Captain McCuskey, of the detective bureau told to-day of his examination of the contents of the trunk left here on May 1 by Antonio Tanner, now under arrest in Italy for complicity in the killing of King Humbert. Nothing incriminating has been found.

It was learned from another source that the police are working upon a clue contained in one of the letters. It is from Valentino Aprato, dated April 23, at Ivre, which is near Turin, Italy. The writer tells Tanner, whom he addresses as brother Trenta:

"You say you will be here in May. We will not be at liberty then; come in July; it will be all right then and may be we will go to the Paris exposition." The letter closes with a request that Tanner bring some of "that tobacco in yellow papers." The police, it is said, think it possible that this language veiled certain communications referring to anarchistic movements.

DEFAULTED IN INTEREST

Has the American Wood Working Machine Company.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 6.—In the United States circuit court the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, of New York, filed a bill in equity against the American Wood Working Machine Company. The plaintiff company is the trustee of bonds to the amount of $2,000,000, issued by the defendant company, and the bonds are secured by a mortgage on the property of the defendant company. The bill alleges that the defendant company is insolvent, has defaulted in the payment of the interest on the bonds, and that receivers have been appointed for the company. It is alleged that there is certain property of the defendant company in the district and the court is asked to restrain the receivers from disposing of any property covered by the mortgage in question.

Boycotting the Canadian Pacific.

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 6.—A meeting of the Canadian Pacific railway striking shop men was held to-day at which resolutions were adopted asking citizens not to patronize the Canadian Pacific trains, excursions, etc. Other railway orders have held secret meetings, at which sympathy was expressed with the shop men. The company has issued a circular stating its side of the case. This was sent to the provincial points, and will not be made public until to-morrow.

Anarchists' Cases Postponed.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The case of the five alleged anarchists, including Mrs. Lucy Parsons, Clement Pfeutzner and Abram Edelstadt, who were arrested yesterday on West Twelfth street during a riot caused by the suppression by the police of an attempted meeting to rejoice over the assassination of the king of Italy, were postponed until Saturday, after considerable testimony had been heard. Mrs. Parsons announced her intention to fight her case to the end. All of those arrested were released on bonds.

Severe Heat in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—One death and several prostrations were reported to-day as the result of the intense heat which is prevailing here. ### MARTIN'S FERRY NEWS.

The Daily Chronicle of Wheeling's Progressive Neighbor.

An attempt was made about midnight Sunday to steal the valuable driving horse of M. M. Sheets at "The Elms." An unknown man entered the stable and unlocked the animal and had succeeded in getting it outside. The daughter, Miss Clara, who had not yet retired, heard the animal being taken from the stable and running outside arrived at the stable in time to see a man leading the animal by the foretop. He evidently saw the young lady, for as quick as a flash he released his hold and started for the woods as fast as his feet would carry him. It was indeed a bold piece of work to be attempted within the city, and Miss Sheets is indeed to be congratulated upon her bravery.
